Lives Brought to Life

A not for profit literary press serving art and community

The Frost Place Continues Partnership with CavanKerry Press

The Frost Place and CavanKerry Press will continue their partnership, begun in 2012, into 2015. CavanKerry is committed to educators of all levels and has pledged to continue to support their endeavors. CavanKerry shows its support by offering special book and package deals to educators, underwriting a scholarship for a New Jersey Poetry Out Loud Teacher to The Conference on Poetry and Teaching, and fulfilling its pledge to enhance The Frost Place's conference dedicated to educators.

Founded in 2000, CavanKerry Press is a not-for-profit literary press dedicated to art and community. Based in New Jersey, their mission is to expand the reach of poetry to a general readership by publishing poets whose works explore the emotional and psychological landscapes of everyday life. To date they have published 73 works from emerging and established writers and have initiated outreach efforts that include thousands of donated titles to numerous organizations, Poetry Heals workshops for medical personnel, and a partnership with New Jersey Poetry Out Loud. For more information visit www.cavankerrypress.org.

CavanKerry's Publisher Joan Cusack Handler said, "We are thrilled to continue our support of this scholarship to The Frost Place Conference on Poetry and Teaching. We believe in supporting important community programs such as New Jersey Poetry Out Loud. We believe in supporting teachers. This scholarship allows us to do both of those things."

The scholarship is given annually to the teacher of the student winner of the New Jersey Poetry Out Loud contest. The teacher receives a full fellowship to attend The Frost Place's Conference on Poetry and Teaching, which includes lodging and meals. Poetry Out Loud is a national poetry recitation contest program supported by the National Endowment for the Arts and the Poetry Foundation. It encourages the nation's youth to learn about great poetry through memorization and recitation. This program helps students master public speaking skills, build self-confidence, and learn about their literary heritage.

In addition to the annual scholarship, this year CavanKerry Press is offering discounts on their titles specifically for teachers. This is a great opportunity for teachers to have access to contemporary work to share with students in their classrooms.
